

Since 2005, Inox Fabrications have been delivering an impressive range of catering fabrications for the foodservice industry.

Whether you are looking for servery counters or one-off, bespoke items, Inox's fabrication shop has the capacity to manufacture your product to meet your every requirement, regardless of size.

DESIGN

Here at Inox Fabrications, we create both modern and contemporary made to measure products, with a wealth of experience in manufacturing stainless steel fabrications for commercial kitchens.

Our designers utilise their wealth of experience and understanding to design something that's cost effective to manufacture and install while still meeting the clients individual needs.

MANUFACTURE

Inox continues to make substantial investments in our CNC equipment, CAD software systems and our staff. This allows us to assist our highly skilled workforce to produce a consistent product while still maintaining our core values of quality with punctual lead times. Whether it's a standard product or bespoke item of fabrication we have the staff and equipment to not only produce what you need but also quickly from approval of the designs.

INSTALL

Our installation teams carry out work on a range of sites for some of the biggest names in construction to the local builder, in addition to our impeccable health and safety record our engineers carry the very latest hand tools and lasers to ensure all site works are done as quickly and as safely as possible. Working alongside each installation team will be one of our in house project engineers to ensure the project is delivered on time and on budget.

MAINTAIN

Our nationwide network of engineers cover a wide range of tasks from reactive breakdowns to planned preventive maintenance and compliance works. Working on behalf of our distribution partners we offer a white label service, this prevents a conflict of interest allowing our distribution partners to maintain the working relationship with the end users and clients, with pay as you go or subscription type plans available they are both tailored to each individual sites requirements.

Contact Us

Unit 1, Adhan Trading Estate, Newton Street, Blackburn, Lancashire, BB1 1NL

01254 681948

info@inoxfabrications.com

Listed On

Industry Associations

